Families Protected

Protecting families in the Southeast since 1974

What began as a one-man operation in Dublin, Georgia has grown to a team of 100 and is still owned by the Allgood family. The name Cingo literally means to secure and surround, conveying our commitment to protect you and your family through our unique comprehensive service offerings for Total Home Protection which includes Home Security/Life Safety, Pest Prevention – termite, pest, and wildlife services.

Cingo operates in markets throughout Georgia and South Carolina. You will find us in Atlanta, Augusta, Charleston, Douglas, Dublin, Savannah, and all points in between.

We attribute our success to a simple business plan built on core values that shape our culture and guide our actions and customer commitments to ensure a flawless customer experience.
