A Christmas Carol by Dean Morrissey

Scrooge was a miser. His money was his life. Then, one Christmas Eve, Scrooge received a trio of visitors who showed him not only the true meaning of Christmas, but the true meaning of life. Morrissey's painting depicts London, circa 1843, when Dickens first published the story. The offices of Scrooge and Marley are in fact the pub in the city where Dickens reportedly did a great deal of writing.

Christmas Homecoming

The Saturday Evening Post Cover
By Norman Rockwell.
Rockwell's wife, Mary, embraces their eldest son, Jarvis, as he arrives home for the holidays with Christmas presents in hand.

In the background, the artist appears with a pipe while the middle son Tom (in a plaid shirt) and the youngest son Peter (wearing glasses at the far left) look on excitedly.

Painting Santa

Jim Daly, the artist, skillfully uses his brush to summon the nostalgic essence of childhood, capturing idyllic moments that reflect an idealized life.

In this depiction, Jim Daly emerges as a budding artist, portraying Santa during a tranquil nap before embarking on his journey to deliver Christmas gifts.
